

the big picture

Five wedding photographers revisit some of their favourite images, and offer advice on preparing for your close-up

Johnny Productions

Most clients, says Johnny Chan of photography studio Johnny Productions, prefer their wedding photos to have a classically romantic feel. Not so Winkie Chan and Howard Ku, whose wedding, at the Ritz-Carlton in March this year, was all about fun, with a carnival theme that transformed the hotel into a giant fairground. Explains Chan: "Winkie and Howard wanted their photos to reflect themselves, and so every image includes a subtle reference to their personality – whether it be their beloved dog, who was brought to the Ritz-Carlton especially for a photo session; the vintage car; or Winkie's fantastic, shocking-pink heels." Tel 8209 2808, www.johnnyproductions.com